

Mud Kitchen

The revolutionary folding mud kitchen provides a great platform for free play and exploration and will stand the rigours of constant use. Children can enjoy the delights of squishing with mud, making mud pies, concocting recipes and generally having lots of fun.

Whether indoors or out, the mud kitchen will promote imaginative play such as cooking in the home corner or for the creation of magic potions.

Why a folding Mud Kitchen?

The folding Mud Kitchen offers far more flexibility than traditional designs. The composite top is ultra-tough and with an inbuilt UV colour fix, can be left outside all year round. Our folding kitchen is backed by a 5-year guarantee and can be packed flat in seconds, making it the ideal choice when space is at a premium.

Children gain so much when they venture outdoors

When outdoors, children can enjoy a heightened sense of wellbeing and freedom to express themselves. They will want to make mud pies, pour and measure water or carry out hands-on science and mathematics experiments.

Mud is good for a child's physical and emotional health. Not only does playing with mud lift your mood, relax and soothe you, but the germs found in mud can strengthen a child's immune system and prevent the development of allergies and asthma.

"A child's imagination and creativity can run wild with mud providing an important sensory experience and an opening into their make believe world."
